IBS

program department

Here's your station's copy of the current taped programs available through the IBS Program Department.

You'll find programs and series on music, public affairs, contemporary issues, and a series produced for children. Any or all could make a meaningful addition to your station's program schedule.

Notice that we've managed to keep the cost of these program series extremely low - virtually the cost of the tape itself. We're a non-profit organization, and we'd like to make it possible for stations which ordinarily cannot afford outside programs to augment their own schedule with one or more of these series.

Admittedly, there are a limited number of programs in these listings. However, you can help to expand our offerings with programs being produced at your station which might merit interest from other stations as well. It's also a chance to receive added exposure for your programs nationwide.

If your station is producing programs you think might be of interest, or you have an idea for production of such a series, please contact me at: P.O. Box 3697, University Station, Charlottesville, VA 22903.

Development Issues

Four half-hour programs that deal with the concepts and reality of economic development in a global perspective. The series format is an "audio magazine" style, which enables the program's producers to present a large amount of information in a very listenable manner.

The topics of discussion in DEVELOPMENT ISSUES concern all of us. An understanding of these problems in the world is hard to come by, for most Americans. Yet, this 4-week series does much to bring about some insight into some very complicated topics... without shortchanging the complexities of the world economic/cultural system.

Here's a brief outline of the topics included in each of the programs:

Program #1

An introduction to the series; the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Worlds

Workshop on Alternative Energy Strategies (Part I)

El Nino - effect of climate on Peruvian fishing industry; periodic invasion of warm water into the usually cold Humboldt Current; Guest: Dr.

Reginald Newell, Professor of Meteorology, M. I. T.

Urban Gardening - (Part I)

Program #2

Workshop on Alternative Energy Strategies (Part II)

The 1975 Guatemala Earthquake - (Part I)

Urban Gardening - (Part II)

Report on the 4th U. N. Conference on Trade & Development

Program #3

The 1975 Guatemala Earthquake - (Part II)

Runaway Population Growth

Tropical Diseases

Alternatives to Oil

Program #4

Energy - (viewed in the perspective of a developing country)

The Population Explosion - (Guest: Robert McNamara, World Bank president)

REMEMBER.....

If your station has a program series or an idea for production of a program series which might be of interest to other school, college, and university radio stations.....let us know about it.

Through the IBS Program Department, your program series may be able to receive nationwide exposure, distribution, and recognition.

The more stations producing programs and letting us know about them..... the more programs we can offer to everyone....at prices that most stations can afford without killing their entire year's budget.
